Boy Love Association (NAMBLA). To suggest that "gays" (they're all the same, and male, of course) promote sexual abuse of children is ridiculous as well as outrageous.

Mr. Himmel's choice of words is most telling. He speaks of a society that has been emasculated by fear, and that GLBA, which he confuses with homosexuality, is one of man's dirty little secrets that should remain in the closet. He clearly has mistaken being gay with being male, the Gay, Lesbian, Bisexual Association with advocating a certain sexual orientation or practice, and the parade of prejudices as the right to one's opinion. We suggest you remember, Mr. Himmel, that words harm, and you are as responsible for the mistreatment of other human beings when you misuse them, as those you falsely accuse of doing so in their private lives.

The Gay, Lesbian, Bisexual and Allies Program is part of the Office of Human Relations and Resources at WSU. It has no official advisory relationship with the GLBA student association. The GLBA Program exists to:

- increase a positive social, academic and employment environment for lesbian, gay, bisexual and transsexual students, faculty and staff;
- increase campus-wide understanding and awareness of the needs, issues and realities of this population, as well as to confront and reduce negative attitudes it faces;
- reduce the effects of alienation among members of the gay, lesbian, bisexual and transsexual community by actively supporting the concept of WSU as a place which accommodates and accepts diverse lifestyles;
- ensure enforcement of established campus policies which prohibit harassment of and discrimination against lesbians, gays, bisexuals and transsexuals at WSU.
