Polling places listed Fewer voters register in county

The number of registered voters in Whitman County has decreased since the 1984 presidential election, the county auditor said.

James Repp said 22,252 peo-ple registered to vote in the county, down from 24,325 in 1984.

2,500 registered About between the Sept. 20 primary election and Oct. 8, the deadline to register for the general election, he said.

Polling places for today's general election in Pullman include:

• Districts 113 and 123 -Jefferson Elementary School, N.W. 1150 Bryant;

• Districts 114 and 119 -Pullman City Hall, S.E. 325 Paradise;

• Districts 115 and 124 -Community Congregational Church, N.E. 525 Campus;

• Districts 116 and 117 -Sunnyside Grade School, S.W. 425 Shirley; • District 118 - Fire Station #1, S. 620 Grand Ave .:

• Districts 120, 121 and 122

Pullman High School, Larry and Hall drives;

• Districts 125 and 126,

Streit-Perham Halls, Colorado and Stadium Way;

• Districts 127 and 128 -Trinity Lutheran Church, N.E. 1300 Lybecker Road;

• District 129 — Presbyterian Church, N.E. 1630 Stadium Way, Room 202;

• District 130 – Presbyterian Church, N.E. 1630 Stadium Way, Room 201;

• District 131 - Graduate Center lobby;

• District 132 - Stevenson complex lobby, Stadium Way;

• District 133 - Orton Hall, first floor lobby;

• District 134 - Quality Inn Motel, S.E. 1050 Johnson Ave.;

• District 135 - Lincoln Middle School, S.E. 315 Crestview

Voters may call Pullman City Hall at 334-4555 to find out which district they occupy.

LOCAL BRIEFS

Meetings scheduled

• Wind Row II staff will meet at 7:30 p.m. tonight in Room 110 Avery Hall. Staff members and interested students are encouraged to attend. Contact Paula MeDougal, managing editor, at 332-8839 for more information.

• The Black Women's Caucus will meet at 6 p.m. today at Heritage House to discuss the Thanksgiving Food Drive.

• Omnicron Nu will hold initiation at 6 p.m. Wednesday in Room 24 White Hall.

• The Campus Crusade for Christ will sponsor Prime Time at 7 tonight at the Koinonia House. Newcomers are always welcome.

• The Rodeo Club encourages old and new members to attend a discussion of important business at 7 tonight in the Livestock Pavilion.

• "Who We Are: Relating to our Lesbian and Gay Relatives, Friends and Selves" will meet at 6:30 p.m. today to watch and discuss the film, "An Early Frost." For more information call the YWCA at 335-3916.

• The Gay and Lesbian Association will meet tonight after the YWCA "Who We Are" discussion group. The association has been formed to help meet needs of the gay/lesbian community. Any person interested in helping the group, regardless of sexual orientation, should call Mike Church at 335-4250.

Church's story told

Msgr. John Donnelly will tell "The Story of the Church" from 7 to 8:30 tonight in the upstairs conference room of the St. Thomas More Chapel, NE 820 B St.

He will detail peak moments from Pentecost to 1988 and give theological perspectives on the Pentecost, community and worship.

Drug research reviewed

Dr. Mahmoud M. Abdel-Monem will review the history of the drug discovery process and discuss modern strategies for new drugs at 7:30 tonight in Room 145 Bustad Hall. The address is titled "Drug Discovery: From Seeds and Weeds to Computer Assisted Molecular Modeling.'

Coaches needed

Pullman Parks and Recreation is accepting applications for youth basketball coaches. The youth basketball program will run from Jan. 16 through March 4.

Coaches will be required to conduct two practices weekly and Saturday games. This is a paid position with some previous experience desired. Applications will be accepted until 5 p.m. Nov. 18. Interested persons should call 334-4555 for more information.

THE FAR SIDE

By GARY LARSON

1117

Veteran's Day program pushes awareness of MIAs and POWs

by Patty Crean Evergreen Staff

Joint WSU and University of Idaho ROTC units and the Veteran's Affairs offices are honoring veterans in a university-wide Veteran's Day observance the week of Nov. 6-11.

The week-long program promotes veteran's awareness, addressing issues concerning prisoners of war and military personnel missing in action.

Dawn Wise, Air Force ROTC First Lieutenant, said the program honors people who were willing to give their lives to protect the values and ideals America stands for.

Air Force ROTC cadets will march around campus with flashlights tonight at 7 p.m., to honor POW/MIAs. Black ribbons and banners will be placed on trees to promote awareness of people missing in action and prisoners of war.

"We are essentially saying not to forget them (MIA/POWs)."

- Herbert J. Cross

A 24-hour candlelight vigil by two Air Force ROTC cadets, beginning 11 a.m. Thursday and ending 11 a.m. Friday, will also be held on the CUB mall.

Tom Foley for increased congressional support on the POW/MIA issue will be released by Air Force ROTC cadets at 11 a.m. Friday.

Since the Vietnam conflict 2,483 people have been estimated as missing in action.

"The support is growing, mostly by pushing for awareness,' Foresman said.

There are better relations between the Vietnamese and the U.S. government, but political barriers still exist, Foresman said.

All military branches of the ROTC units, (Navy, Marine, Army and Air Force), will participate in a joint color guard opening the Veteran's Day ceremony Friday.

Army veteran Herbert J. Cross, WSU psychology professor and Human Relations Center director, will deliver the Veteran's Day address on veteran's advocacy at 11 a.m. Friday at the CUB mall.

Dave Guzman, WSU veteran's affairs director, said there will be an alternate program in the CUB auditorium at 11 a.m. in the incidence of poor weather.

"We are essentially saying not to forget them (MIA/POWs)," Cross said. The program is sponsored by the Arnold Air Society, a professional honorary service organization affiliated with Air Force ROTC and Veteran's Affairs, WSU Veterans Association and the WSU Veteran's Affairs office.

The Society's national annual project is supporting the POW/MIA awareness week.

University of Idaho veteran's affairs coordinator John Sawyer, said UI veteran students will participate in an 11 a.m. flag raising ceremony Friday.

UB mall. Balloons carrying a message to Congressman Other activities in Idaho include a parade and color guard program put on by UI ROTC groups.

WSU must add women's sports or risk loss of Pac-10 standing by Dan A. Nelson Evergreen Staff

mum requirement now, said Associate Athletics Director, Harold Gibson.

"There are various avenues that may be tried - trying to increase ticket sales or find pri-

If WSU doesn't add several women's sports, it may lose its Pac-10 standing, university officials say

A 1987 state Supreme Court ruling said the ratio of women's to men's athletic scholarships must reflect the ratio of women to men in the student body.

This makes WSU the only university in the nation compelled by law to achieve sex equity in its athletics, according to a report from the WSU president's office.

So, scholarships may come out of men's sports if more women's scholarships can't be added in any other way, said WSU Vice Provost, Ron Hopkins.

"But, we have already had several cutbacks in men's athletics, so we couldn't cut anymore," Hopkins said.

In order to keep division I status, schools have to maintain seven sports for both men and women. WSU meets that mini-

Therefore, WSU has requested an additional $900,000 from the legislature for its athletics program. This money would be used to start one sport each year for the next three years.

About $300,000 would be needed for coaches, equipment and various costs related to the sport. The remaining $600,000 would go toward scholarships.

If the legislature approves the request, the money would come out of the state general fund, but the request will face opposition in Olympia said Ken Jacobsen, chair of the house higher education committee.

'It will be difficult to get those funds. They are going to have to demonstrate that it is completely (necessary)," Jacobsen said in an earlier interview.

If the legislature refuses the budget request, the university will look elsewhere for the funds.

vate donations - but it has to be done," Hopkins said.

The problem stems from the fact that the 1987 decision included football in the calculations

"Men's football involves so many scholarships that we are going to have to offer more (women's) sports to (achieve equity)," Hopkins said. This is because of NCAA rules limiting the number of scholarships for each sport.

"We have to go somewhere in the neighborhood of offering 30 more full-time equivalent scholarships for women - or about three sports," Gibson said.

He said a decision will be made early next semester. Some of the sports being considered are soccer, softball and crew.

The decision to add more women's sports comes three years after women's gymnastics and the rifle squad were cut.

"Andrew, go out and get your grandfather ... the squirrels have got him again."