LESS THAN 3750 CHANCES LEFT TO CHANGE THE WORLD

Not everyone is cut out to change the world. After all, it takes education, skills and a spare two years.

Also a willingness to work. Hard.

This year 3,750 Americans will join the Peace Corps to do just that. They'll do things like build roads, plant forests and crops, teach English, develop small businesses, train community health workers, or even coach basketball. However, what they'll be doing isn't half as important as the fact that they'll be changing a little piece of the world...for the better.

And when they return, these 3,750 Americans will find that experience doing hard work will have another benefit. It's exactly what their next employers are looking for.

So, give the Peace Corps your next two years. And while you're out changing the world, you'll also be making a place in it for yourself.

Halloween carnival

The children of Pullman, from 4 to 12 years old, are invited to attend the Pullman Parks and Recreation fifth annual Halloween Carnival from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. Oct. 31 at Gladish Gym.

The event, co-sponsored by WSU students of the Recreation and Leisure 375 class, will include a haunted house, a costume parade, a visit from WSU's mascot, Butch, and games such as a fish pond, fortune telling and a cupcake walk. The carnival is an alternative to traditional trick-or-treating and there is no charge for this fun-filled evening. For more information call 334-4555.

Group seeks members

The ASWSU Hunger Awareness Committee wants to create a political will to end hunger. The committee would like the support of WSU students.

The committee aims to make people aware of the hunger problem in the U.S. and other countries. Films and forums about world hunger will be presented, but the main objective is a letter writing campaign to be directed toward local and national political leaders. To join or get more information about the committee call 335-8919 or 335-8846.
