Hunger Awareness' status tabled

The ASWSU Assembly last night tabled until next week a motion to consider the Hunger Awareness Task Force as an ASWSU committee.

The assembly also voted to increase the Mayfest Committee's financial speculation to $5,000 from the original $2,000.

Hunger Task Force representative Bob Loomis said the group would like to have committee status so it could be "more effective."

The assembly asked Loomis to talk with the chairman of the Environmental Task Force about becoming a subcommittee of that group because the task force's goals are not just educational.

Providing charity to needy countries and peoples are among the groups' goals, Loomis said. Activities adviser David Lee said it might be a problem to supply state funds to charity.

Assembly member Karen Sticklin told Loomis the assembly could accept the task force if its objectives were completely educational, but it cannot now because some of its motives are charitable.

The Mayfest Committee's speculation, or money it will be expected to return to ASWSU, was raised from $2,000 to $5,000 at the request of the Mayfest Committee.

Mayfest co-chairperson Terri Robson told the assembly Mayfest needed more money so it will be able to book performers and groups for the week-long activity.

That motion was passed with the stipulation that it be reconsidered next week.

Lee said he "trusts Mayfest to bring in $5,000."

If the $5,000 is not met by the committee, ASWSU will be responsible for the money.

A special ski day at North-South Ski Bowl was unanimously approved by the assembly. The ski day will be held March 18 with a special lift-ticket price for the general public.

Wet: don't enter grounds, golf course officials ask

WSU golf course officials have requested that students refrain from entering the course area, due to the wet condition of the grounds.

"The course is really wet," Al Liotta, golf pro at the course said. "When people walk on it, it damages the green and the fairway. When people use the driving range, it's so wet we have to dig the balls out of the ground."

The Colfax Golf Course, however, is open, despite recent rains, Liotta added.

EARN OVER $650 A MONTH RIGHT THROUGH YOUR SENIOR YEAR.

If you're a junior or a senior majoring in math, physics or engineering, the Navy has a program you should know about.

It's called the Nuclear Propulsion Officer Candidate-Collegiate Program (NUPOC-C for short) and if you qualify, you can earn as much as $650 a month right through your senior year. Then after 16 weeks of Officer Candidate School, you'll receive an additional year of advanced technical education. This would cost you thousands in a civilian school, but in the Navy, we pay you. And at the end of the year of training, you'll receive a $3,000 cash bonus.

It isn't easy. There are fewer than 400 openings and only one of every six applicants will be selected. But if you make it, you'll have qualified for an elite engineering training program. With unequalled hands-on responsibility, a $24,000 salary in four years, and gilt-edged qualifications for jobs in private industry should you decide to leave the Navy later. (But we don't think you'll want to.)

Ask your placement officer to set up an interview with a Navy representative when he visits the campus on March 6-9, or contact your Navy representative at (206) 442-5700 collect. If you prefer, send your resume to the Navy Nuclear Officer Program, Code 312-B537, 4015 Wilson Blvd., Arlington, Va. 22203, and a Navy representative will contact you directly. The NUPOC-Collegiate Program. It can do more than help you finish college: it can lead to an exciting career opportunity.
